

The right mask for you

At ResMed we believe that mask performance is non-negotiable. A mask should seal firmly but comfortably, no matter how you sleep, and it should not be a struggle to find a model that suits you. That's why ResMed has created a wide range of masks that have an array of features designed to meet different needs. After all, every face is different.

The masks featured in this brochure are examples of ResMed's full face range.

Full face mask

What is a full face mask?

A full face mask typically has a cushion that covers both your mouth and nose to create a seal over both airways. If you breathe with your mouth open or experience nasal congestion, you may need a full face mask. They are also more suitable if you are prescribed higher pressures as they are more tolerable than other types of masks.

ResMed's full face range of masks

AirTouch™ F20

Full face mask

Our softest mask ever

AirTouch F20 is the first mask to use UltraSoft™ memory foam*, crafted for a perfect blend of comfort and performance. It's designed to adapt to the unique contours of each individual face, creating a light, breathable seal that stays in place throughout the night.

If you are not completely satisfied with the UltraSoft memory foam cushion, you may exchange the cushions that are a part of the AirTouch F20 Starter Kit for one AirFit F20 InfinitySeal™ silicone cushion within 14 days of purchase.

AirTouch F20 is available in Small, Medium and Large sizes. AirTouch F20 uses the same frame as the AirFit F20.

*To ensure optimum comfort and seal, we recommend replenishing the AirTouch F20 cushion every month.

InfinitySeal™

silicon cushion interchangeable with AirTouch F20 UltraSoft memory foam cushion.

QuietAir™

diffuser vent minimises noise and gently dispenses exhaled air.

Magnetic headgear clips

guide the headgear to the frame quickly and easily.

Quick-release elbow

simple to disconnect from the mask tubing without removing the mask.

AirFit™ F20

Full face mask

Full face benefits in a compact size

AirFit F20 and AirFit F20 for Her full face masks are designed to comfortably fit all facial shapes and sizes, and will appeal to those looking for a less confined mask that delivers a clear line of sight.

AirFit F20 is available in Small, Medium and Large sizes. AirFit F20 for her also available in Small and Medium sizes.

AirFit™ F30

Full face mask

Minimal coverage, maximum performance

AirFit F30 is a full face mask that sits gently under your nose, not over it. With nothing over your nose, red marks or discomfort on the bridge of your nose can be a thing of the past.

AirFit F30 is available in Small and Medium sizes.

We're so sure that you will love our AirFit full face masks, that we are offering a 14 day money back guarantee if you are not completely satisfied.*
